

High speed photography

Using flash and a little ingenuity

What do you need ??

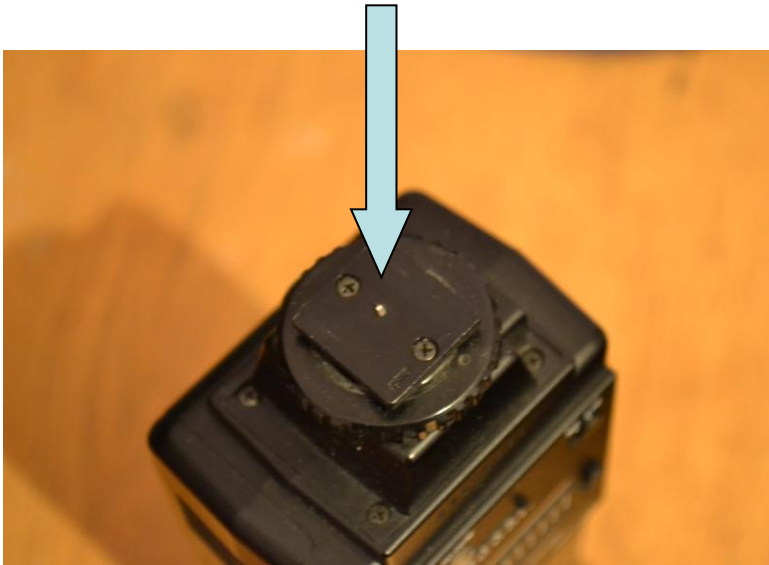

- A camera, (obvious really) some manual controls are needed
- A flash gun (also obvious) any flash gun will do from little manual units to fully automatic ones, but simple guns are easier to work with
- Some means of triggering the flash! This is where the fun begins

How do you trigger a flash gun?

- All flash guns can be triggered by connecting the centre pin on the base of the flash to the contact on the side of the base where it normally fits onto the hot shoe of the camera
